Student Government Nominations Announced

World Views

MOSCOW—Russia fired its third and biggest Sputnik—roughly the size of an ordinary automobile—into orbit Thursday at a height of 1,177 miles.

Tass News Agency said that this conical-shaped satellite weighing 2,925 pounds now is speeding around the world in outer space, circling the globe every 106 minutes.

The launching rocket of unstated dimensions also is in orbit and is trailing the earth satellite.

WASHINGTON—Vice-President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon received a triumphal welcome yesterday on their return from South America and President Eisenhower proudly hailed them for the "courage and dignity" with which they faced chaos and danger.

LA PAZ—The Bolivian government rushed troops to the oil-rich eastern region of the country Thursday to crush a revolutionary movement.

A communique issued Wednesday night said insurgents seized Santa Cruz and much of the surrounding territory but that their plans for a national uprising against President Hernan Siles Suazo had failed.

WASHINGTON—Intelligence reports reaching Washington warn of a possible outbreak of major anti-American demonstrations in Indonesia.

These reports said Communist-dominated unions are planning rallies aimed at denouncing the U.S. and other western powers for alleged interference in the Indonesian civil war.

years of central bank administration. He was dean of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania from 1939 to 1941 and held the bank post from 1941 to March 1, 1958, when he retired.

In addition to heading the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Williams is now president of the Pennsylvania-New Jersey-Delaware Metropolitan Project, Inc., a nonprofit corporation organized to promote the development of an urban region embracing parts of the three states. The Ford Foundation has extended a $900,000 grant to assist in this work.

The commencement speaker is a graduate of the Wharton School and holds a Ph.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. He has received the honorary degree of LL.D. from six colleges and universities.

Dr. Williams is active in public affairs of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and is now serving on boards of the Samuel S. Court Elects Smith; Economides Fined Cromer Smith was elected to serve as chief justice of the Student Court for 1958-59. Voting was done after the regular court session Wednesday afternoon, by the present justices. "Next year's three other justices have not been chosen yet," said Dr. Russell Decker, faculty adviser to the Court.

During the court session itself, Dimitrios Economides was fined $20 for his fourth parking offense. Also, a suspended fine of $10 from a past offense was re-instated and added to this, making a total of $30. His car privileges were taken away until today, when he must take the car home for the rest of the semester.

Economides' case was first heard at the open court session April 30. At that time, he stated that he was not driving the car. Jerry Kepler testified that he borrowed the car to drive to Johnston Hospital, and parked along the traffic island, a restricted zone not for students. The Student Court re-opened the case when it was found Kepler had not received hospital treatment at the time he stated, according to Dr. John Marsh, director of the University Health Service.

At the second hearing, since the car was registered by Economides, and it had been illegally parked, the Court found Economides guilty of his fourth offense.

Dr. Decker stated that Economides' and Kepler's court statesments have been referred to the Dean of Men for possible further disciplinary action.

AROTC Units Undergo Federal Inspection

THE UNIVERSITY'S ARMY ROTC Drum and Bugle Corps passes in review at the Annual Federal Inspection. The inspection team rated the appearance of the entire cadet corps as most outstanding.

By GEORGE DUNSTER

The final list of nominees for positions on the new Student Council and as Student Body officers has been announced by the senior student members of the Council on Student Affairs. Working as a nominating committee in lieu of the formation of the Student Council, the Council members screened all applicants for the posts and narrowed the selections down to the required number. The committee, working under the chairmanship of George Lynch, collected the write-in sheets from all the residence halls and those names submitted in the Union Activities Office.

In addition to screening all the names submitted, the committee also investigated every freshman, sophomore and junior on campus who had a 2.5 average and over. The seven senior members, Lynch, Nancy Curtis, Janet Dick, Doug Eggleston, June Fritsch, Jeff Os-off and Ed Ward, looked into the personnel files, talked with student counselors, head residents and even investigated the student employment files in screening all the possible nominees.

Wednesday afternoon, the students finally nominated were invited to a meeting and informed of the nomination. There they were handed a list of regulations governing the procedures in campaigning for election on May 21. Peg Faze, chairman of the Elections Board, discussed these rules with them and had the nominees submit a list of their qualifications, honors and awards so they could be made up for campaign purposes. In each case, with the exception of the office of President of the Student Body, the maximum number of nominees were obtained. It must also be noted that the candidate for president of the Student Body receiving the second highest number of votes will be elected vice-president.

The list of nominees and their offices are as follows: President of the Student Body; Lewis Moorhead, Norman Nunemaker and Delight Thompson.

Secretary of the Student Body: Luanne Johnson, Carolyn Krukemyer, and Brenda Boyce.

Treasurer of the Student Body: John Garner, Herman Koby and Morse Sanderson.

The names of the nominees for posts on the Student Council are, Seniors: Virginia Weadock, Willard Hutzel, Peg Faze, Robert Kinstle, Norman 'Skip' Spear, and Linda Gee.

Juniors: Sue Rautine, Judy Davis, Wanda Chynoweth, Harold Wassink, Robert Pelton, Larry Coffman and Alice Saba.

Sophomores: Ed Shirkey, Keith Trowbridge, Michael Pheneger, Edward Mitchell, Koreen Stahl, Fred Stumppo and Diana Armstrong.

The list of regulations concerning campaigning for the nominees that was given to them on Wednesday was as follows:

Actual campaigning may begin no earlier than 8 a.m. Wednesday, May 14. The candidates can only visit residence halls between the specified hours of 5 to 7 p.m. for personal campaign presentations on May 14, 15, 19 and 20.

Parades may be held from 4:15 to 7 p.m. on class days or Saturday, but not on Sunday. The route must be approved by Police Chief Rohrs.

Concerning posters, none can be put inside academic buildings or the interior of the Nest. They may go into residence halls but permission of the head resident must be secured first. They may be no larger than 22 inches by 7 inches or 11 inches by 14 inches. This is one quarter of a full-size sheet of poster board. Mimeographed and dittoed materials cannot be used unless personally addressed and can be no larger than eight and a half inches by 11 inches, or a regular-size sheet of typing paper.

An Open Letter

"The leadership of American education is rapidly passing out of the hands of professional educators." This statement by Dr. Paul Wooding, author of a recent analysis of the state of U.S. education, was contained in an open letter to U.S. educators printed in a recent issue of LIFE magazine. Excerpts of that letter follow:

"... It is obvious that our schools from kindergarten through college must make dramatic changes and equally obvious that the present tremendous public interest in education offers an unparalleled opportunity for us to make some long-overdue improvements.

"But instead of leading the way, instead of planning new programs to meet the exciting demands of the last half of the 20th Century, most of us are fighting a futile delaying action. We are resisting the attacks, fending off the flying brickbats, offering evidence that our schools are just as good as they were in 1900, denying the charges, and advising our cohorts to cancel subscriptions to any magazine that dares to challenge current educational practices.

"This is not leadership—leadership is not possible from a defensive position. If the control of the schools is not to pass entirely out of our hands we must again take the offensive. We must ourselves identify the weakness and shortcomings of our schools and offer bold and imaginative solutions.

"It is futile to waste our time pointing out that much of the criticism misses its proper target and that some of the critics are confused by the enormous complexity of American education. The important fact is that, while educational spokesmen resist change and feebly defend the status quo, the critics offer strong and positive suggestions for the improvement of our schools.

"... The critics themselves—those outside the schools—cannot rebuild the American educational system. All they can do is illuminate the errors. The rebuilding must be done by professional educators working with the support of lay groups.

"The American people are ready to move. If we will show the needed courage, enthusiasm, perception and intellectual vigor, we can now build a system of education far superior to any that our nation or any nation has ever had. But first we must get out of this ridiculous defensive position and start acting like leaders again."

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:

Every time that one of us picks up a newspaper or magazine these days, he is sure to find some reference to science. Of course these references are natural; the importance of science is indeed great. But in paying science its due attention, we are in some danger of overlooking other matters which are also important for our lives.

We are all aware that in our nation, or any nation, we have a lack of self-confidence, a feeling of fear among ourselves. At the time we are educating new scientists, we must be sure to train our young people for all the needs that our society must have satisfied—not the scientific only.

Among the many fields in which society needs workers, the special education of handicapped citizens is one which promises very valuable returns. We need specialists in speech and hearing therapy in our schools, our hospitals, our medical clinics. With the great resources of our country we should be able to extend our facilities enormously, as in the state universities of Ohio which have the function of training the teachers of the handicapped.

I have thought for a long time that these teachers need training in the social sciences in order to understand what needs to be done to bring the handicapped to their proper status as productive citizens. I believe many persons fail to understand the problems of the handicapped—how the handicapped need special training to become self-supporting members of our society. Students who are therapists need this sociological background to understand the homes and the needs of their pupils, especially in local communities. Wherever these teachers serve, they must be able to raise the social status of the handicapped until the latter can feel they are not second-class citizens but "normal" Americans.

Too often the average citizen thinks of the handicapped person as an object of public charity—someone who must be taken care of because he is unable to make any contribution to his own support or to society in general. Therapists must guide the handicapped persons to full recognition by their fellow citizens. They must so educate and rehabilitate the handicapped that it will be shown to all that the handicapped person is often a superior worker.

This point is important to me. For several years I have fought for "special education" only to find that many persons do not understand that such a program involves rehabilitation as well as education. And with the attitude of society as it is now, the problem of rehabilitation is as much sociological as it is educational.

Responsibilities Part Of Job

"What is the pattern that you, as a working student, are getting into? Is it going to be one of not assuming responsibility, not doing your job properly, not thinking of others? Or is it going to be one of assuming the responsibility that is given and expected of you, doing your job as well as possible and thinking of others as well as yourself?" These are the questions asked by Robert E. McKay, student financial aid counselor.

Mr. McKay continues that when you are given a job, you are assuming a responsibility to you, your employer and the University. The first of these responsibilities is that of doing your job as well as possible so that you may have a sense of a job well done.

The second is to your employer. He counts on you being there at the time you should be. He is responsible to both you and his employer. Do not let him have to take the blame for something that you have done. The last of the three is that of your responsibility to the University. You are fortunate in that the University is able to provide you with a job so that you may continue your education. Do not let them have a bad opinion of you.

Some tips given by Mr. McKay are that if you do not want to do the best that you can on a job, do not take it. Let someone take it that is willing to do what is expected of him. If you have a job and you do not feel that you can do the work properly, tell your employer that you cannot, do not leave him short-handed.

McKay continues that if the student gets into the habit of letting his job slip, he is letting himself into a pattern that can lead to pitfalls after graduation. In the world of business, education or professions, there is no place for the person who does not wish to accept that which is expected of him. Where man-hours are money-hours, a person has to be ready to take all the responsibility given to him.

In conclusion, McKay said that almost one-third of the students of the University hold a job and pay almost one-half of their total costs incurred. Their jobs are a part of their training, training to help them later on. So when you assume a job, McKay urged, benefit by it, learn by it, and profit by it. Don't kill the goose that laid the golden egg by having student help banned.

Linksmen Place Behind 'Cats, OSU In Ohio Intercollegiate Tournament

Paced by Perry Lanning's 158, the Bowling Green Falcons placed third in the Ohio Intercollegiate Golf Championships at Ohio State University Monday. Out of 95 golfers from 19 Ohio colleges, Lanning finished fourth.

Lanning's 158 was the third best score ever recorded by a Falcon golfer at the championships in ten years of competition. The low is held by Jim Dyringer, who had a 155 in the 1955 tournament.

Ohio University topped the field of 19 with a combined team effort of 638. Ohio State finished second with 639 and BG had a score of 655. The victory by the Bobcats made them a strong contender for the MAC title. This was only the second time the Buckeyes have not won the title.

This was the second straight year that the Falcons finished third; three years ago they were fourth. Because of inclement weather the greens were very wet and made putting tough. Consequently, the 638 recorded by the Bobcats was the highest since the tournament was inaugurated ten years ago.

This Saturday, the Falcons travel to Western Michigan for a triangular match with Kent State and the Broncos. Michigan has a 12-2-1 record this year and it will be the first meeting between them and the Falcons. BG, earlier in the year turned the Golden Flashes down 2 1/2-2 1/2. The Broncos best golfers are Thomas Arch, James Coyne, and Don Meyers, all returning lettermen.

BG Trackmen Romp To Victory Over Detroit; One Field, Three Varsity Records Fall In Meet

Led by sophomore Bernie Casey with two first places Bowling Green's track team romped to a decisive 92 1/3-42 2/3 win over the University of Detroit's trackmen Wednesday afternoon on the BG track. Casey captured firsts in both the 120 and 220 yd. high hurdle events.

Casey captured his first places with times of :15.0 in the 120 and :25 in the 220. In both of these events BG's Ernie Malzahn took second place. The Falcons Lynn Koester took third in the 220 and Chuck Comer third in the 120. Three varsity and one field record fell in the days activities. Carroll Rine set a new varsity and field mark in the discus as he threw it 155 ft. 7 1/2 in. The throw broke the old record of 154 ft. 10 in. held by Baldwin Wallace's Straftman. Rine also broke his own record of 149 ft. 5 in. which he set earlier this year in the Kent State meet.

Lynn Koester took the first place honors in the high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 11 in. In the pole vault event the Falcons captured both first and second place. Bob Ramlow took first with a vault of 12 ft. 6 in. and Ron DeWulf placed second.

DeWulf also took a first in the javelin throw with a toss of 149 ft. This was the first time that he has entered this event. BG's DeVinney took a third in this event.

Larry Dove, Falcon miler set a new record in the mile run as he covered the distance in 4:26.7. Placing second in this event was BG's Dave Armstrong. Detroit's Wilhelm took third.

The third record to be written into the record books was John Scott's time of 1:55.6 in the 880 yd. run. Placing second in this event for the Falcons was Dove. Detroit's team of Mansfield, Heger, Prokop and Roehl captured first place in the 880 yd. relay with a time of 1:31. BG's 880 yd. relay entry placed second.

Other events in the meet were won by the following: 440 yd. dash—Detroit's Prokop; Shot put—BG's Luehrs; 100 yd. dash—Detroit's Heger; 220 yd. dash—Detroit's Roehl; 2 mile run—BG's Dave Armstrong.

Top point winners for the Falcons so far this season are Bernie Casey, Carroll Rine, Ernie Malzahn, John Scott, Dick Luehrs, Bob Ramlow and Tom Meyers.

EM Nine Defeated, 10-7 By Falcon Diamondmen

With a weekend of rest ahead of them, the Falcons can spend the time contemplating the return of the batting eyes that enabled them to pound Eastern Michigan to the tune of 10 to 7 last Tuesday.

The Falcons came from behind to batter three Eastern pitchers for eight hits, including a home run by Dick Kuzma.

Actually, Bowling Green started the scoring spree with four runs in the opening frame on just one hit. Three bases on balls and three errors gave the Falcons a 4-0 lead. Eastern came back in the next inning to drive Joe Spano, Bowling Green's hurler, from the mound and entice star hurler Wade Diefenthaler into the game. Two quick singles were followed by a homerun by Frank Manly. A single, an error by Falcon right fielder, Don Hornish, and two walks sent two more runs across the plate before Diefenthaler could bring the hitting spree to a halt.

Singles by Kuzma and Ray Reese accounted for another Falcon run in their half of the second, but Eastern, still in the game, came back for two more runs to keep the lead, 7-5.

After several innings of relative peace Bowling Green broke loose. With two out Ron Blackledge, the third baseman, singled, and scored when Reese hit a double. Minarcin's hit to right was mishandled by Manly, and Reese scored.

With the game knotted at 7-all in the bottom of the eighth, Kuzma delivered the game-winning blow. Jack Michaels had singled, been sacrificed to second by Diefenthaler whose bunt had been misplayed, and the stage was set for Kuzma's long shot which climaxed the ball game.

Wednesday afternoon the Falcons fell prey to Wayne University, 8-6 at Wayne. Earlier this year the Falcons game with Wayne was rained out. When the rain came the Falcons were winning.

Knierim Resigns As Frosh Coach

Jim Knierim, for the last two years freshman basketball and assistant baseball coach at Bowling Green State University, has resigned that position and will join the Toledo public school system as a teacher.

The 32-year-old Knierim, a 1948 BGSU grad who was head basketball coach at Toledo Woodward for six years before joining the BGSU staff, gave his reason for resigning that he doesn't prefer to continue in college coaching.

He has been accepted only on a teaching assignment at Toledo, and whether he will be given a coaching position is to be decided.

Harold (Andy) Anderson, athletic director and head basketball coach at the University, said that he has contacted several prospects for the vacated post, but it has not been determined when the appointment will be made.

Frat IM Activities Listed

David Matthews, intramural sports director, requests that fraternity representatives read the proposed intramural activities list for 1958 which is posted on the bulletin board in the Men's Gymnasium.

A selection of sports must be made from the list, so that a final draft can be drawn when Mr. Matthews talks to fraternity representatives in the near future.

He also announced that the golf driving match scheduled for May 4 will be played Saturday, May 24 at 9 a.m. on the University golf course.

Kite Day Is Proclaimed

By RON SUPINSKI

Sunday, May 18, has been proclaimed Kite Day at the University. Unofficially, that is.

On that day 79 University freshmen, who are enrolled in Art 112, a beginning design course, will try to answer a dogging question—"Will their hand-made contraptions fly?"

Students have made test models of tissue and balsa wood before starting to work on their final full-scale models which are limited to wood, paper, tinfoil, plastic, glue, and string in their construction. Size of the kites may be anywhere from one inch to sixty feet.

And not all of this kite flying will be in fun, exactly. The participating students will be graded on three points: (1) design, (2) craftsmanship and construction, and (3) function.

"In a very real sense, the kite is a teaching project," says Carl D. Hall, instructor in art at BGSU and coordinator of Kite Day. He adds that "... while it (the kite) offers free play for the imagination, it presses home a point: design is inseparable from function and structure."

Most of the kites will be flown Sunday afternoon on the grass area surrounding the Fine Arts Bldg. A prize will be awarded to the best kite.

"All of the kites will be graded on how well they fly and they must fly to get a grade," Mr. Hall concluded.

The spectacle, which will be an all-day affair, is free to the public.

Theta Chi's To Make Appearance On WSPD-TV Saturday Afternoon

The Theta Chi choral group, which won the IFC Sing this year, will appear as guest artists on the Jane Schroeder television program over WSPD-TV in Toledo tomorrow. The program is aired each Saturday at 12:30 p.m. and features outstanding talent from Northwestern Ohio.

The group, which consists of 14 men under the direction of James Rodgers, will sing "Cool Water," the number that won the IFC Sing this year, and "Po' 'Ol Laz'rus," the song that gave the same honor in 1957. Theta Chi has been IFC Sing winner for seven out of the past eight years. Several fraternity songs will round out the group's performance.

The singers recently made a long playing record which contains the two songs mentioned above, "The Dream Girl of Theta Chi" and several other fraternity songs. The record is being sold at cost and may be obtained by calling the Theta Chi house.

The Theta Chi choral group will be making several other personal appearances in the near future. They will serenade the May Queen and her Court when they are revealed at the intermission of the U-A Prom May 24.

Choral Ensembles Elect New Officers

The new officers will meet at 7 p.m., Monday, May 19, in the Choral Room of the Hall of Music.
